

TATJANA CICHON I ENTER THE GRID

Tatjana Cichon is a healer, coach and artist from Germany. She has studied social science, acting and yoga.

Tatjana follows her spiritual path and she travels around the world to learn, develop and expand her mind and spirit.

During her childhood Tatjana survived serious health issues, near death experiences, as well as a difficult family situation.

These life challenges proved to be a deep learning experience for Tatjana to gain understanding and wisdom about the soul-body and mind connection. Being a highly sensitive person, Tatjana has been guided by higher spirits since her childhood and she is sure that they saved her life.

Through the years, these higher spirits and her mentors have taught and reminded Tatjana about a higher consciousness, eternal and unconditional love and the interrelation of the universal laws to daily life.

She is currently teaching and guiding groups, giving single sessions and is also working with healing-voice frequencies.

During her work, Tatjana combines new scientific knowledge, spiritual wisdom and medial abilities, to accompany her clients with clarity and compassion.

Her main purpose is to support people to consciously step into their own creativity and to take responsibility for their own lives. To enter the field of creation and to discover their own creative power.

Tatjana's work is a research of truth. It is her belief that if we reconnect to our source and reconnect our heart –mind correlation, we may first heal ourselves and then spread it out naturally, becoming like a vibrant light during the process of our own healing.

Tatjana lives in Cologne, Germany.
